BIOGRAPHY

If you listen to the radio, watch TV, or go to the movies, you already know Jill Colucci. At just about any given hour, somewhere, Jill's voice or original song can be heard. She is a multi-platinum award-winning songwriter with #1 hits including Song of the Year "No One Else On Earth" by Wynonna Judd, "I'm Gonna Be Somebody" by Travis Tritt, and "Anymore" which she co-wrote with Travis. Her songs have sold over 20 million records worldwide. Jill received her first gold records with Anne Murray and Gloria Loring. Other artists who have recorded her songs include: Rita Coolidge, Keb' Mo', Lacy J. Dalton, Michelle Wright, Richard Carpenter, Kennedy Rose, Larry Stewart, Andy Childs, Akina Nakamori and Akiko Kobayashi.

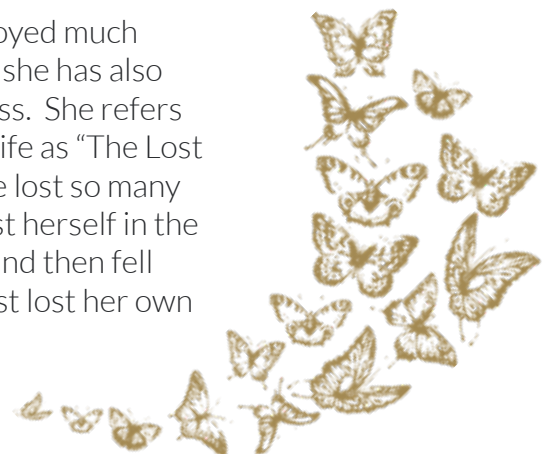

Jill has entertained America as the songwriter and vocalist for ABC's America's Funniest Home Videos theme song for nearly three decades. For three consecutive years, she sang ABC's network theme song "Something's Happening Here on ABC", and she also performed Kenny Loggins' "Celebrate Me Home" for Disney Channel's network theme. Her national TV and radio commercials include Toyota, Coca-Cola, McDonald's, Coors Beer, Burger King, Oldsmobile, Taco Bell, Chevrolet, Glidden Paint, and many more.

Jill's songs have won numerous awards, including multiple CMA Awards, ACM Awards, ASCAP #1 Awards, ASCAP TV & Film Awards, BMI Multiple Millionaire Broadcast Performances, Canada's Single of the Year and Video of the Year for Michelle Wright's "He Would Be Sixteen" and Billboard's Song of the Year Award for "No One Else on Earth". In 2017, she received the Empower Posi Music Award nomination for "One More Time". In 2018, she received the Empower Posi Music Award for "There's Nothing I Can Say" from her "Heal My Heart" CD.

Jill has been lead vocalist for numerous feature films including Julia Roberts' breakout film Mystic Pizza, and Where The Boys Are, Tap, All The Right Moves, and White Water Summer. She wrote the song "Paradise," which was featured in White Water Summer and Little Nikita. Her television credits include Miami Vice, Designing Women, Mike Hammer, numerous Movies of the Week and many more.

Although Jill has enjoyed much commercial success, she has also experienced great loss. She refers to this period in her life as "The Lost Decade" because she lost so many of her loved ones, lost herself in the caregiving process, and then fell critically ill and almost lost her own life.

BIOGRAPHY CONTINUED

During this time, her music changed, her heart was opened more fully, and her songs became the vehicles for her healing. Her new CD, "Heal My Heart", is an expression of her triumph over loss and the manifestation of her new path in life. Jill is dedicating these songs to all those who have experienced any kind of loss in their lives, hoping to prove that when words fail, music speaks.

Jill combines her commercial success and her healing music in a performance titled "Hits, Healing & Hope" which is a concert you won't want to miss! Along with performing for Hospice Organizations, Caregivers Associations, Nurses Associations, Gilda's Clubs, and many other organizations in the healthcare industry, she also performs all over the country in theatres, listening rooms, house concerts and churches, creating powerful healing for all those she touches with her music.
